SYRACUSE ARCHITECTURE

SOA.SYR.EDU

MEET US!

Syracuse Architecture offers a highly ranked Master of Architecture program in the United States, and our Design | Energy | Futures concentrated research + design program that leads to a Master of Science in Architecture.

Both of these programs are embedded in a prestigious liberal arts university that includes study opportunities in Florence, London, New York City and our Three Cities Summer Program.

We hope you are among the outstanding pool of students who apply to our program. Syracuse University offers a comprehensive and competitive financial aid and teaching assistant opportunities.

A portfolio of creative and/or professional work in architecture, the visual arts, and/or design is required as part of your application. You may also submit your portfolio online. Please refer to our website at soa.syr.edu for more information.

We wish you the best in this exciting time in your life and look forward to your application and the possibility you will pursue architecture studies here in Syracuse.
