PETER F. GAITO & ASSOCIATES

Our open studio environment supports a collaborative culture, encouraging project development, innovation, design creativity and technology opportunities for staff to learn all facets of design and construction, which benefits both our clients and our staff. We offer the opportunity to work on interesting, meaningful, sustainable and design oriented projects for premier clients, at a variety of scales, complexities, project types and locations throughout New York City, NY, NJ, CT. We understand the balance of work and life, support the path to licensure, involvement in professional and charity organizations and provide in-house bi-weekly lunch and learns from various companies on technology, materials, products and systems.

Peter F. Gaito and Associates (PFGA) is a vibrant and dynamic full service professional firm offering architecture, engineering, planning and construction management with offices in White Plains, NY, New York City and Spring Lake, NJ. Since our founding in 1972, we have steadily grown into a talented team of architects, engineers, planners, designers and construction managers with a broad range of skills and expertise. We have achieved a reputation for design excellence, personal client service and technical know-how.

Our Team of talented, creative, energetic, inspired, focused, detail oriented designers study how people live, work, play, grow, move, learn and bond to design unique, site-specific, functional, creative spaces that improve everyday lives and enhance neighborhoods for public and private projects: civic, commercial, cultural, religious, residential and masterplanning.
