

Arrowstreet

Located in downtown Boston, Arrowstreet is an architecture firm reinvigorating design in the city. Since our inception in 1961, we have continuously evolved, challenging ourselves to reimagine typical building typologies. Today, we strive to enhance the quality of the built environment, participating in some of the region's most exciting projects from our location at the forefront of the new creative economy in the Financial District.

We strive to be progressive, collaborative, and fresh in our approach. Our staff of architects, interior designers, planners, and graphic designers are astute observers who bring diverse perspectives to every venture. This translates to a spirit of equity on our project teams, where the combination of experience and talent has allowed us to stay at the forefront of the profession. Here, interdisciplinary in-house teams sit side-by-side, harnessing their depth of knowledge and creative thinking to solve the most complex building challenges.

Job Captain (3-6 Years)

Arrowstreet is looking for a self-directed Job Captain with strong design and technical skills. You will be a key team member, contributing design ideas and helping to lead technical production, while being supported and mentored on a range of projects from design through construction.

You:

- Are eager to contribute design ideas
- Have strong communication skills
- Enjoy the opportunity to collaborate in an open office
- Keep on top of new trends in design and technology
- Have an Architectural degree and are well versed in Revit, SketchUp, and the Adobe Creative Suite

Designer (2-6 Years)

Arrowstreet is seeking talented and collaborative team members who are interested in being involved with projects from design through construction.

Our wide range of project types and approach to architecture and design offers unmatched professional growth opportunities. Our studio philosophy encourages team members to interact, collaborate, and socialize. We value our staff as our best asset.

You:

- See the design opportunity in every aspect of a project, from exterior materials to interior finishes
- Relish the opportunity to collaborate in an open office
- Have strong technical, communication, and presentation skills
- Keep on top of new trends in design
- Have an Architectural degree and are well versed in Revit, SketchUp (or other advanced modeling applications), and the Adobe Creative Suite

Interested candidates may connect with Stephen Zuber (2002 MArch) at zuber@arrowstreet.com . Please send a cover letter, resume, and sample images (<10mb) in a single PDF.
